

Svetlana I. Guseva
Independent researcher
Saint Petersburg, Russian Federation
s_guseva@mail.ru

Bright memory of the Teacher: To the 90th anniversary of Lia Vasilyevna Bondarko's birthday

Abstract

The article is devoted to the memory of the outstanding Russian linguist Liya Vasilyevna Bondarko, whose 90th birthday was celebrated on May 13, 2022. For 30 years, Doctor of Philology, Professor L. V. Bondarko headed the Department of Phonetics and Foreign Languages Teaching Methods at Leningrad / St Petersburg State University and made a significant contribution to the training of highly qualified linguists. Numerous scientific papers of Liya Vasilyevna as a bright representative of the Shcherbovskaya Phonetic School, a person of great talent, a big heart and a broad soul have become a valuable part of Russian and World linguistics. These are the works in articulation, speech acoustics and perception, vowels, consonants and syllable that will always be in demand by both beginners in oral speech research and experienced linguists who have devoted themselves to the science of language.

Keywords: Liya Vasilyevna Bondarko, Shcherbovskaya Phonetic School, Department of Phonetics and Foreign Languages Teaching Methods of St Petersburg State University, perceptual aspect of Phonetics, experimental Phonetics, objective characteristics of sounds, methods of Phonetics, scientific heritage of L. V. Bondarko

© Guseva S. I. 2022

For citation: Guseva, S. I. (2022). Svetloy pamyati Uchitelya K 90-letiyu so dnya rozhdeniya Lii Vasil'evny Bondarko [Bright memory of the Teacher. To the 90th anniversary of Lia Vasilyevna Bondarko's birthday]. Teoreticheskaya i prikladnaya lingvistika [Theoretical and Applied linguistics], 8 (2), 199–204. https://doi.org/10.22250/24107190_2022_8_2_199